Highland Club Fort Augustus Arrival Questionnaire

to be completed by one representative of each group arriving at The Highland Club, Fort Augustus

Test and Protect is Scotland's way of putting into practice the test, trace, isolate, support strategy. Contact tracing is a well-established public health intervention and is part of the national Test and Protect approach to containing the virus.

Contact tracing is a process for identifying people who are at risk of coronavirus infection because they have had contact with a person who has tested positive. These people will be given advice to help reduce the risk of spreading the virus.

In order to protect both yourselves and the community please complete this form to enable contact to be made by Health Protection Teams in the event that you have come into contact with someone who subsequently tested positive for COVID-19.

Please note that this information will only be retained for the length of time as recommended by the Scottish Government and will be used for no other purposes.

This information is very important, please write in capitals and be as detailed as possible.
